CHICAGO, May 1.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The following summary of developments in the Chicago labor troubles today gives a good idea of the seriousness of the situation.

Maintenance of way employees numbering 2400 went out on three belt railroad and three terminals.

Brickmakers to the number of 2500 went out in all yards in the Chicago district with one exception.

Machinists, electrical workers and machinery movers employed by the Elgin Electric Company, numbering 300, went out on strike.

A general strike of metal trades in the company's shops throughout the country is threatened tomorrow.

The freight handlers telephoned to Labor Commissioner Hart after being denied a conference by the general managers. They asked arbitration under the Erdman law.

A conference of building contractors and seven unions involved in the plumber-steam-fitter war will be held tomorrow morning.

WAR CLOUDS BREAK.

War clouds which have hung over Chicago's industrial horizon for weeks broke in several directions today with both sides making new demands added to the number on strike. The total number on strike in the city, including miscellaneous trades in which the workers have been out for some weeks, was placed at 12,000.

Following a list of strikes and lockouts with the number involved:

Maintenance of way employees, 2400; Brickmakers, 2500; Building trades, 6000; Marbleworkers, 300; Miscellaneous trades, 300.

2400, 12,000.

WAR UNION RECOGNIZED.

Following a formal meeting of general managers to recognize the Brotherhood of Maintenance and Way employees, or to make a general contract covering the six railroads in the city where the men are organized, H. A. Verpil, vice-president of the organization, later, union, authorized a strike. The railroads involved are:

Illinois Central Terminal as far south as Harvey.

Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Terminal.

Baltimore and Ohio Terminal.

Chicago Junction Railroad.

Western Indiana Railroad.

Indiana Harbor Belt Railroad.

BOMB THREATS MADE.

Rumors of a bomb plot at the Heinz building, the scene of many labor disturbances caused unusual anxiety among the police today and induced Acting Chief Schuler to order the reserves increased from the normal strength of one hundred to the night force to the emergency strength of one-half that detail. Furloughs in the department have been ordered discontinued and other precautions for the maintenance of order have been taken.

"It is important to be prepared for any trouble that may occur," said Schuler.

"The men will sleep at the various station-houses until the order is received. At the downtown station and Desplaines-street station a mobilization of plainclothesmen has taken place. At the downtown station and the West Side station there are about thirty-five more.

Peace in the peaceful wars of the Building Trades Council seems a receding hope according to most of the

The Home Telephone Company of Covina was the first to do this. It is doing things to which its service will be impaired and its expenses will probably increase.

CONCESSIONS TO THE REBELS.

Gaining an Inch They Are Asking For a Mile.

Appeals Are Made to Extend the Armistice Zone.

Madero, However, Awaits Specific News.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)
EL PASO (Tex.) May 1.—Coincident with the arrival at the Madero camp today of advices from insurgents leaders that the rebels had occupied various points in the State of Coahuila, particularly near Monterrey, appeals were received by Francisco I. Madero, Jr., from citizens of Monterrey for an extension of the armistice zone to that region.

Gen. Madero said he would await specific information from his chief as to the position of their forces before making any decision.

His advices read: "Railway at Gomez Palacio, Colonia, Lerdo and San Pedro in the hands of the revolutionaries. Hard fighting is in progress at Barras, starting last Thursday. One thousand rebels, engaging 600 Federalists. Much damage has been done."

"Pablo de la Sancha took 200 men from Sabina Hidalgo in the State of Nuevo Leon, and is marching on Mexico City."

The peace commissioners appointed by the revolutionaries were in conference several hours today with political leaders of the insurrection, the program to be presented to the Federal peace envoy, Senator Francisco Carballo, being the subject of discussion. Senator Carballo was expected to arrive tonight, but failed to do so.

It is understood that no changes were made today in the revolutionaries' programs drafted yesterday. The question of method of the selection of provisions, Governors, for various States occupied much of the day.

WILL MAKE IT PLAIN.

The exact number of States in which the revolutionaries will determine the right to name Governors has not been agreed upon. It is believed that it will be plain, however, to the Federal peace commissioner that they do not wish to place in power men who have taken an active part in the revolution. They are in sympathy with the popular masses of the insurgents and at the same time popular enough to tranquillize the State.

The insurgents wish to submit three names for each Governorship in the States in which the peace agreement shall allow them to name their own. The Legislature being permitted to choose one or two.

The rebels will insist, however, on one radical change from the procedure hitherto followed in the appointment of Governors.

The revolutionaries believe such men shall be chosen as provisional Governors who have sufficient strength to pacify the people at the present time.

TO CALL GENERAL ELECTION.

After the selection of provisional Governors there shall have been made and the electoral laws revised, according to the insurrectors' plan, a general election shall be called to choose a President. The exact time of President Diaz's resignation has been avoided in the present plans chiefly because the revolutionaries believe it is agreed, however, that the selection of a provisional President for the interim will not affect the putting into operation of reforms in the State of Sonora. Since De la Barra, Minister of Foreign Affairs, is the professed favorite of the revolutionaries for provisional President.

A complete change of political administration is desired by the revolutionaries in the programme now being drafted and there is good ground to believe that the Legislature will have already given assurance of the acceptability of some of the rebel demands.

Sons Oregon and Braunit, the Federal go-betweens, were busy today conferring with some of the Madero family. Many discussions are said to have continued in the Federal government's plan for ending the revolution which give the revolutionists encouragement in pressing strong demands for their principal demands.

MISSING SCHOOL BOY LOCATED WITH REBELS.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SEATTLE (Wash.) May 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fighting side by side with thirty other American soldiers, many of whom are Negroes, McCollum, command of 300 men, is Chester McConners, aged 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. William McConners of 410 North Sixteenth Avenue, this city. At the home an almost frantic mother and a sorely worried father are leaving to search the son before he falls victim to a Mexican bullet.

Without a word to his parents of his intentions young McConners disappeared from Seattle on March 20 and nothing was known of him when abouts by his parents until a few days ago when they received a letter from him written in the insurgents' capital of Mazatlan.

Mr. Chester McConners took his lunch as usual and went to the Broadway High School where he was a third year student. His lunch was placed in his pocket after which all trace of the young man was lost.

EL TIGRE MINING CAMP FACES STARVATION.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)
DOUGLAS (Ariz.) May 1.—El Tigre, the mining camp with the greatest output of gold in the State of Sonora, will be starved out in less than a fortnight, if the rebels do not retire from the field.

Enrique Woolfolk, the teaming contractor, notified the mining officials at the camp and in this city today that he could no longer transport supplies to the rebels, who were taking all provisions from his wagons, but commanding mules and stock feed.

St. Louis Police Reminded Her She Overlooked Some Rent Due.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
ST. LOUIS (Mo.) May 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Hetty Green, richest and most frugal of American women, has six months overlooked $200 a month in rent due her from a four-story building at No. 224 North Third street, a downtown corner here, which she owns, but which she seems to have forgotten about altogether, although letters and telegrams have been sent in an effort to remind her of it. The tenants have paid no rent because no collector has asked them to do so. Their "cinch" was revealed today when Patrolman Weaver began inquiry about a depression in the sidewalk in front of the building caused by heavy rains. Chief of Police Young instructed his secretary to communicate with the owners of the building by mail, and gently break the news of the money she has lying idle in St. Louis.

Others believe they have escaped and have taken refuge in the forest, while others believe they are in a rescue party. However, no rescue parties are being sent out, the Federal troops being, perhaps, with reason, not over-confident that they can hold Cuernavaca and protect the new Jefe Politico of that place, whose capture is announced, the brigands greatly desire.

PRESIDENT CORRAL DENIES THE INTERVIEW.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)
PANAMA, May 1.—Vice-President Corral denied to the Associated Press here today that in a statement made to the Associated Press, that he had given an interview to El Tiempo.

A crew of lieutenants, employed in stringing up telephone lines, stated the anarchist was to El Tiempo also quit work today, saying that the rebels operating in this vicinity were cutting the wires as fast as they were put in place.

They are the only means of transporting supplies, and there is food sufficient for only two weeks in the camp.

There are many Americans at El Tiempo, who are drivers and stamp men, all being erected to double the output of precious metals.

A crew of lieutenants, employed in stringing up telephone lines, stated the anarchist was to El Tiempo also quit work today, saying that the rebels operating in this vicinity were cutting the wires as fast as they were put in place.

SPIRITUALIST ADVISER FOR FRANCISCO MADERO.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SACRAMENTO, May 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] No one in California had more enjoyment than Dan Christie from the noted bandit. For the first time in seventeen years he breathed the air of freedom. He was reunited with the daughter, who has kept up a ceaseless battle to free him.

At 7 o'clock this morning the prison doors were wide open for Evans and he walked forth in freedom. As he obeyed the laws of California, for he has been paroled. His daughter, Winnifred, who year after year, pleaded for mercy for her father, was at the prison gate to greet him. She had provided an automobile to Sacramento and the trip was made at rapid speed.

It was Evans's first automobile ride, for autos were unknown when he was holding up trains and battling with posses down in Tulare county. He had to leave the prison by the auto route because the trail would be quicker than the Southern Pacific train and because he hoped to avoid newspaper reporters. That had been his sole desire.

After imposing the fine for contempt upon Ashe, Judge Lawlor set the case for May 15.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] For the founding of a Chair of Spiritualism in Stanford University Thomas Weston Stanford of Melbourne, Australia, a brother of the late Senator Stanford, has given the university $10,000. The gift is to have originated from a leak of oil.

The university has already been presented with tablets, coins and ancient manuscripts, which Stanford himself was material for the school's construction.

Other peculiar and astounding things are said to have been "produced" through these spiritualistic mediums.

Speaking of his career as a bandit, he said: "There was only one way in which to fight the Southern Pacific Company in that day. That was to fight it. It controlled practically all the courts and there was no chance for justice where poor people were pitted against that company.

Evans has been a model prisoner. He is proud that never once during his incarceration was he called on.

GOULD POLICY ALTERED SOME.

Merging of Two Properties Is Contemplated.

Operating Agreement With the Iron Mountain.

An Unbroken Line Between Three Big Cities.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
NEW YORK, May 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fundamental modifications in the policy of George J. Gould were announced today by one of his advisors. It is now almost a certainty that the East will be abandoned and Gould will devote his energies to the development of his Western lines. The Western Maryland already has passed from Gould's control to the Rockefeller domination, and it seems probable that he will now retain only sufficient interest in Wheeling and Lake Erie and the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal to protect the Wabash. The understanding in the East between Gould and his rivals will enable him to proceed with the enlargement and concentration of the Missouri Pacific and St. Louis, Illinois-Mountain and Southern. Gould has been assured of ample funds, under most reasonable conditions, to improve his Western roads to the highest standard, and he can command any amount he desires.

The first move in the West will be the merging of the International and Great Northern with the St. Louis, Illinois-Mountain and Southern.

Armstrong's have made a lead to invest the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern with stock control of the International and Great Northern.

The Texas & Pacific will be incorporated May 6 and following this sale the absorption will be accomplished.

The next move will be a very close operating agreement between the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern and the Texas and Pacific. The transaction will be as to facilitate the operation of Iron Mountain with the same result as if the Iron Mountain had stock control of the Texas and Pacific. Most significance will attach to the Texas and Pacific, St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern will have an unbroken line, under one executive control, from St. Louis to New Orleans, Shreveport and Pascagoula. The St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern now terminates at Texarkana, Tex., and Lake Charles and Port Arthur, La.

THIRD PEACE CONGRESS.

President Taft Will Deliver Address at Open Session In Baltimore Tomorrow.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.
BALTIMORE, May 1.—The third annual peace Congress will assemble here next Wednesday for four days' session. The gathering will be under the auspices of all the leading societies of America devoted to the settlement of international disputes by means other than war.

President Taft will be present at the opening meeting, and his speech is looked forward to with interest. The Congress will deal with two leading lines of peace work: (1) the settling of public questions by addressing direct armistice "fail" and injustice of war, together with the economic waste of universal armaments, and (2) the practical ways of making possible by establishing institutions which would take away the excuse for war.

Battle Stories of The Civil War.

XXX.

The War Day by Day Fifty Years Ago.

May 2, 1861—George B. McClellan, Ex-Army Captain and Railroad President, Was Organizing Ohio's Volunteer Forces—His Plans of Campaign.

Gen. George B. McClellan in 1861.

(Courtesy, BH, by the Century Company.)

FIFTY years ago today George B. McClellan, major-general of the volunteer forces of Ohio, was busily organizing the State's troops and working night and day to bring military order out of chaos that prevailed.

At the time he was already making elaborate plans not only for the defense of the Ohio line, but also for the invasion of the South by the movement of a column of 80,000 men into Virginia against Richmond, or into Kentucky and Tennessee, against Nashville.

Organized from West Point in 1844, serving with distinction in the Mexican war, detailed to observe and report on the Crimean War, resigning from the army in 1851 to become official of the Illinois Central Railroad and later president of the Ohio and Mississippi, and now returning to military service as major-general, McClellan might well believe that he was fated for great things.

Appointed Major-General.

In his "Own Story," he tells of the manner of the taking command of the Ohio volunteers.

"When the catastrophe (of Sumter) occurred," he writes, "the excitement in Cincinnati and along the Ohio River was intense. The formation of regiments began at once, and all who had military knowledge or experience were eagerly sought for, my services being among those to do what I could in the way of giving advice to those, who sought it and in allying the element in Cincinnati.

At this time I received telegram from friends in New York informing me that the Governor of the State desired to avail himself of my services, and from Gen. Robert Anderson offering me the position of chief engineer of the Southern militia, then organizing under his orders, and one from Gov. Curtin of Pennsylvania, offering me the command of the Pennsylvania militia.

He said, "I am sending you information about the coming of affairs in Cincinnati, intending to remain only a few hours, and then proceed to Harrisburg."

According to the existing laws of Ohio, the command of the militia and volunteers must be given to the chief or in the vicinity of Gallipolis and about it was feared, might organize an expedition against Ohio and its prosperous neighbor.

To guard against this invasion and to serve St. Louis and Louisville McClellan wished to have forces of from two battalions to five regiments at Cairo and Paducah in Illinois, below Evansville and at Scranton in Indiana at Cincinnati. I stopped at Columbus to give him information some information about the coming of affairs in Cincinnati, intending to remain only a few hours, and then proceed to Harrisburg."

According to the existing laws of Ohio, the command of the militia and volunteers must be given to the chief or in the vicinity of Gallipolis and about it was feared, might organize an expedition against Ohio and its prosperous neighbor.

His movement on Richmond should be conducted with the greatest promptness, and could not fail to relieve Washington as well as to secure the safety of the southern line if aided by a decided advance on the eastern line.

"Another plan would be, in the event of Kentucky assuming a hostile attitude toward the Union, to march straight on Nashville and thence accross to the west, reaching Nashville with 30,000 men, and then to march to the south, through Tennessee, Georgia, and the Carolinas, Mobile and New Orleans.

There was need, too, of excellent mounting and staff officers, experienced men who should know their business, and particular wants, with requests that they be taken forward the principal subject of McClellan's first report, sent on the day of his appointment.

"The next morning," writes Jacob D. Cox, then brigadier-general of the Ohio forces, "McClellan requested me to accompany him to the State arsenal to see what arms and materials might be there."

"We found a few boxes of smoothbore muskets which had once been issued to militia companies, and had been returned, rusted and damaged. We bolts, cartridge boxes or other accoutrements were with them. There

President with the following comment attached:

"As at the date of this letter Gen. McClellan knew nothing of the numbers of the volunteers, he must have had the idea of composing his enormous columns of three-months' men for operating against Nashville and Richmond; that is, of men whose term of service would expire by the time he had collected and organized them. That and after his report appears from a prior letter, in which, although the Ohio quota is but about 10,000 men, the general speaks, I think, of having 80,000."

"A march upon Richmond from the Ohio would probably insure the return of western Virginians, which if left alone, will soon be five out of seven for the Union."

The general eschews written transportation by the Ohio and Mississippi, in favor of horseback and break-down (men, horses and wagons) marches.

"His plan is to subdue the seceded states by a pincers instead of enveloping them all nearly at once by a cordon of posts on the Mississippi to its mouth from its junction with the Ohio and by blockades of water on the sea-board. For the cordon a number of men equal to one of the general's columns would be available, and the translation of men and supplies by water is about a fifth of the land cost, besides the immense saving in time."

George W. Harboon, a building contractor, living at No. 149 West Thirty-first street, was arrested last night by Constable Hayes and locked in the County Jail on a charge of forgery. The complaint was filed by Deputy District Attorney Horton, was sworn to by Arthur C. Miller, real estate dealer of No. 1125 Catalina street, and was filed in Justice Forbes' court.

Two bondsmen were necessary. Mc- Crimmon said that Harboon brought him the document, in which only one of their close acquaintances had gathered among the pines on the lofty spire, the announcement was made.

Both of the members of the firm had already agreed to the purpose of the trip, and had prepared themselves with a large quantity of rice and other things calculated to make a good wedding.

Marriage will out, however. Finally it was decided to tell rather than to be found out. So the Mt. Wilson Hotel was arranged to have a room of their own.

Marriage will out, however. Finally it was decided to tell rather than to be found out. So the Mt. Wilson Hotel was arranged to have a room of their own.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

Pasadena.

NEW EXECUTIVE IS INSTALLED.

Mayor Thum Announces His Line of Work.

First Thing Is to Acquire Water Systems.

Retiring Official on Commission Government.

Office of the Times, 24 S. Raymond avenue.

PASADENA, May 2.—"It is just one election after another in Pasadena this spring," said a well-known politician yesterday morning after leaving the City Hall, where he witnessed the inauguration of Mayor Thum. "The reason is not yet. I do not know what we voted for this year, but this is the first thing you know, we will get the habit, just like eating our meals. It does seem that the electors of this city have spent their time this spring running to the polls. It seems to me that the experience of the election is that it would be enough to discourage the women from ever wanting to vote. Why, bridge parties, luncheons, pink teas and church work will have to be woefully neglected if they were to make any attempt to keep up with the elections."

The annual meetings and the annual Board of Trade banquet are scheduled for this month. Then the excitement of the season will be over and everyone will be able to settle down for a quiet summer.

It is planned to hold the annual election of directors of the Board of Trade on the Fourth of July. The term at which time there is to be an appropriate programme of exercises intended to fittingly celebrate the harmony and brotherhood which has been manifest this year.

A year ago Pasadena had a reputation for voting down bonds whenever they came up. The year that has all now changed and bonds, like everything else, slide through on schedule.

On May 25 will occur the annual election of directors of the Board of Trade. The term at which time the directors expire, but it has been a custom for several years to hold over a portion of the directorate in order to prevent any break in the organization.

It is planned to hold over E. H. Groenendyke, C. D. Daggett, Dr. F. C. E. Mattison and F. L. Brown. Dr. F. C. E. Mattison and F. L. Brown were declared carried while the proposition to buy the parks and additions were declared lost. The ordinance requiring the payment of taxes on the property was carried, and the city was assessed at $1,740,788, having been made, including thirty miles of asphalt streets, forty-two miles of oil graded streets, twenty-one miles of stone gravel and oil streets, fifty-seven miles of curbing, fifty-nine miles of guttering, seventeen miles of sidewalk, fourty-two miles of drainage, and a storm drain, costing $162,800; and a sewer costing $19,700; thirty miles of trees planted along the streets, free collection of garbage and trackage, the capacity of the lighting plant.

LAST CARDS PLAYED.

The members of the old City Council played their last cards yesterday morning, slamming down one trump card after another until the boards cracked completely.

After the last card was played, the bill was rushed through. The vote at the last bond election was canvassed and the school district for $4500.

In the first estimates in connection with the condemnation proceedings it was found that $4500 would be about the proper price to pay for the Vawter site; but E. J. Vawter told the Board that he wanted $10,000 more, the higher sum being originally paid him by Vawter himself.

In short, he pays approximately $7500 for a tract which was offered to the school district for $4500.

Should condemnation proceedings be instituted now they would obviously be instituted again, and the value of the property would necessarily have to be figured at a different valuation. The only thing remaining for the action to take is to sue Vawter and his play-ground by condemning the smaller of the two sites offered, being the property adjoining the present playground on the north.

NO CHANGE.

There was no demonstration of any kind on the part of labor today, when the demands of organization were enforced for a daily wage of $4 for carpenters. The average of building operations was being conducted along open-shop lines, wages being $3.50, $4, $5, and sometimes $6, according to the kind of work.

Big Picnic Party Has Thrilling Experience on Narrow Grade When Horse Becomes Unmanageable.

RECONDO, May 1.—One car, one carriage containing six people, one of them a baby, in arms, were capsized and dashed to pieces on the steep, narrow grade leading to the Reservoir, yesterday, from whence the people were returning from a day's picnicking, while two other carriages, containing eighteen, had close calls from the same slide.

The four cars started from the reservoir at about the same time. At the place on the grade where the open side of the water company crosses the highway the horses driven by R. D. Morris, of Pasadena, who had a long plunge into the ditch for a swim, applied the brakes, but it was insufficient to check the speed of the vehicle, and the car, after a few yards had been covered, at the first turn in the road, one of the wheels collapsed, and the carriage went over, the front end into the ditch, the carriage being turned over, and the vehicle up on the embankment side. Both wheels passed over Rust as he lay in the middle of the road, but he man-

ECLECTIC DOCTORS TO MEET.

Programme of Fifteenth Annual Meeting of Association One Replete with Interest.

Unusual interest, from a medical standpoint, attaches to the fifteenth annual meeting of the Southern California Eclectic Medical Association, which will be held at the Medical College, No. 2371 South Hill street, Los Angeles, Saturday afternoon.

Sixteen addresses, upon a wide variety of technical and general subjects, contribute to lend interest to a programme attractive to practitioners and laymen alike. Among these are "Stamping Out Tuberculosis," which is delivered by Dr. S. N. Sturtevant; "Relation of Man to the Earth," by Dr. M. S. Alabat; "The Range of Possibility of Local Anesthesia in the Execution of General Surgery," by Dr. Roswell Hubbard, and others.

The president's address, which opens the programme, will be delivered by Dr. Scott Turner.

TO STOP PANICS BY LEGISLATION.

FINANCIER RECOMMENDS IT AS A SOLUTION.

President of Fourth National Bank, New York, Is Optimistic Over Present Financial Conditions in Country But Wants Congressional Provision for Currency.

"Bankers don't seem to be able to do much toward influencing currency reform legislation," declared James G. Cannon yesterday. "They seem to be afraid of what would happen if we would hold the next meeting of the American Bankers' Association in Washington and would bombard Congress with petitions from all over the country for effective legislation to prevent the periodical financial panics that so unsettle business conditions."

In general, the after-luncheon talk, at the annual meeting of the Credit Men's Association at the Westminster Hotel yesterday, was along very optimistic lines. He reviewed the history of the National Credit Men's Association during the fifteen years of its existence with special reference to the many business reforms for which the organization is responsible.

"I want the Pacific Coast delegation to the convention of the National Credit Men's Association in Milwaukee to be prepared to take an aggressive stand for currency reform legislation," he said. "The Aldrich-Vreeland bill, allowing clearing house certificates, which gave the nation confidence in 1907, will expire in three years. Along main line bankers and business leaders are agreed on the Aldrich plan for currency reform. The details should be adjusted and the law enacted."

Mr. Cannon said that general financial conditions were improving, banks all over the country showing rapid recovery from former excesses.

"There is a decrease in speculative investments all over the country and a general sense of optimism and safety and sound bonds," he declared. "This has been of great benefit to the railroad and other corporations needing large amounts of money for needed improvements. The railroads are using short-term notes to finance improvements and they are selling rapidly," he said.

"I am afraid that the business leaders are unprepared for what lies ahead, although there is plenty of money here to finance the big crops that I, after a close personal investigation, believe will be grown."

Mr. Cannon minimized the familiar bugaboo of Wall Street, the fear of adverse decisions in the anti-trust suits pending before the United States Supreme Court. "The corporations are not going out of business because of any decision of the Supreme Court," he said.

The applications for Chief of Police from friends of E. D. Poppett, W. E. Bigelow, T. J. Stark, W. Cullen and several others, Poppett is a member under the McNaught administration, Bigelow, the superintendent of the Detention Home, has also been a member of the Police Department for a number of years.

DEFENSE MAY SET UP ALIBI.

Attorney for Mexican Insurrecto Leader, Salinas, Arrested Here, Hints at Plan to Free Client.

Gen. Francisco Salinas, the insurrecto leader arrested in this city Saturday, was released yesterday by the United States commissioners. His preliminary examination was set for June 7, at which time it will be determined whether the complaint issued by the Mexican government is sufficient to warrant his extradition.

Attorney Snyder, who argued yesterday, said that it is probable that the defense may take out a writ of habeas corpus. The offense of which the rebel leader is accused, however, is treason in the term "treason," was alleged to have been committed in July of last year, in Lower California, asserts that during the past four years Salinas has his home at Belvedere, Marin County. This the defense will endeavor to prove through numerous witnesses.

It is stated that Salinas had not been in Mexico for seven years, until about two months ago, when he crossed the border to offer his services gained in the regular Mexican army, at the service of the rebels. Salinas, it is said, once acted as a confidential messenger for important matters to the Mexican government.

Yesterday he was reported to a more placid and calmer, during the day received several friends, one an acquaintance during his army service. The local revolutionary junta, working for the defense, has been unable to find a lawyer to represent him.

He is to be tried on the charge of treason.

The Conversational Club will take up the question of story-telling at its meeting in the Y.W.C.A. building to-night. Miss Mary Keys will give a talk on the art, and several friends, also qualified members of the club, will illustrate with practical examples. The public is cordially invited to be present.

The Missouri Society of Los Angeles will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock in Blanchard Hall. A characteristic good program has been arranged for all everybody, resident and transient, who hails from Michigan, has a cordial invitation to come and hear it.

MISSOURI TO BE SHOWN.

The Missouri Society will hold its regular meeting to-morrow at the Missouri Brotherhood Hall this evening. Any doubtful person desiring assurance as to the quality of the program can come, if he's from Missouri, to be shown.

Chinese Left to Starve.

Immigration Inspector Cornell, at the Chinese Bureau, said yesterday he had received advice that the government launch Orient was ministering to the wants of the ten Chinese who had been left to starve to death by bandits of coolie smugglers. It was his understanding that the Chinese had been seized at Ensenada, and that the smugglers had been captured, but were released on American soil.

As the men were found in Mexican waters, it will be no business of the United States, naval officers to act in the matter except as indicated. The starving men had been marooned at least ten days, and were almost dead when found.

Wants the Facts.

Strange circumstances arising in connection with the suit for divorce of Mrs. Maud Moers against William H. Moers, the latter an owner of the famous Yellow Aster mines, caused Judge Monroe yesterday to refuse to grant a decree until more evidence was adduced.

Mrs. Moers brought suit more than a year ago on the ground that her husband was guilty of extreme cruelty and habitual intemperance. This was later denied, and she brought suit on the ground of non-support. The case came to trial on the latest allegation.

In order that Moers had been served in the case, the judge requested that his attorney be called, even though Moers did not appear to defend. The defendant's attorney proved to be Walter Quinn, a partner of Attorney Quinn, who brought the action for Mrs. Moers.

The judge decided that it was apparent that Moers had been some sort of an agreement outside the court whereby the charges of cruelty and intemperance were abandoned and the more polite ground substituted.

OFF WE GO!

Toot! Toot! booted one automobile.

The children in the big touring car had so evidently been adjured to mind their manners, that they would doubtless burst had it not been for the horns and buzzards had been protected by which alone they expressed their feelings.

On under the sunlight they sped, till they reached the Soldiers' Home.

There the procession halted, and a hush fell on even the gayest of the little ones.

Out of the door of the Administration building slowly walked a teteold soldier. He had a big, bright wreath in his hand. Looking down from the steps he searched the faces before him, while the band played

"Marching Through Georgia."

Then Queen Laura smile at him he slowly sought her side, and smiling

she placed the wreath on her bright head, and said, "Crown you, Laura, Queen of the May!" The soldier was

W. C. Reed, a veteran of the Mexican War, 101 years of age.

Then Queen Laura blew kisses to all who were near, and went with their smiles and blessings.

Through Santa Monica, Ocean Park,

the procession fairly flew, and once under the classic columns of Venice, the fun began in earnest, if one may be pardoned a paradox.

"Din gasoline choo-choo for mine!"

cried one curly-headed little youth of newspaper row.

The original dead-game sports among the children were the little colored children from Fifty-first Street

School, in Mr. Wood's snow-white car, which was racing like a slow-train.

"I used to come here often," said one little orphan-homer. "When I had a papa and mamma. I—I almost forgotten what the sea looked like."

And then we stopped at the Midway.

A JAG OF JOY.

Say! Take 1000 children in 150

autos, and turn them loose in Venice, with no social restrictions, and what's the answer? A gigantic jag of joy! Which may not be mathematical, but solves the human equation, as we found it yesterday.

Over the dips of hills, over the dips and ridges of hills, over the bumps and Alice in Wonderland couldn't have had a more marvelous time than these children with the

One stolid little Chinese from Cas-tar-street school evidently looked upon the animals of the merry-go-round as a new sort of god. Not feeling equal to entertaining any more gods in his little religious system, he did the best he could by standing and gazing awestruck at the beasts in to whether I will be in the case until it is ended, or whether I am investigating the situation with a view to giving an answer to Clarence Darrow—well, those are questions I would not had to go to the meeting yesterday, but he said he could not go. Soon after dinner he left with Harriman

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Engineers and Architects Association has filed a petition asking an amendment of the building ordinances, so that tufa cement, such as is being used on the aqueduct, may be used in all buildings.

The Park Commission yesterday received official notification that the city owns the smallest municipality-owned park in the United States, as well as the largest.

Gen. Salinas, ex-insurrector leader, was arraigned before United States officials yesterday in charge of robbery at San Francisco.

Otto von den Steinen yesterday filed affidavits to the effect that Countess von den Steinen, his wife, has separate property and should be satisfied with $40 a month alimony. The question will be decided next week.

Judge Monroe yesterday demanded more evidence in the divorce suit of Mrs. Maud Moers against one of the owners of the Yellow Aster mine on account of extraordinary circumstances which developed.

World Open Up a Great Industry and Lower Cost of Fireproof Construction—Los Angeles Has Some Small Things, Too—More Money Asked for Power Plant.

A movement was set afoot yesterday by the Engineers and Architects Association, which William Mulholland, chief engineer of the Los Angeles Aqueduct, is president, and H. Z. Osborne, Jr., a deputy in the office of the City Engineer, is secretary, which, if adopted by the city, would mean great saving in the cost of construction, protection, and maintenance of a vast municipal industry.

The association has filed a petition to the City Council, requesting that the building and engineering ordinances be amended so as to allow as many equally good or more desirable kinds of construction, or materials or devices equally good or better than those now in use, in carrying on the engineering and building departments of the city, the question to be determined by a commission.

It is a move to admit to the use of tufa cement, which is being used on the Aqueduct, in the erection of buildings, and the construction of streets, the ordinance at present requires Portland cement.

An insurrectionist made an affidavit yesterday that he had been charged with grinding an equal weight of tufa rock, vase beds of which are found along the line of the Aqueduct, with an equal weight of lime sand cement, with the result that the latter is made to go twice as far as if used alone, and at about 75 per cent.

In the third annual report on the Los Angeles Aqueduct, Engineer E. D. Tamm recommended this modified cement, saying it was about as good as the same as the Italian tufa cement used in the construction of the Colosseum and the old Roman aqueducts.

In the fifth and most recent report on the Los Angeles Aqueduct, Chief Engineer Mulholland says: "Tufa cement has been used in almost every part of the aqueduct, in the erection of buildings, and the construction of streets, the ordinance at present requiring Portland cement.

The showing compares favorably with cement tests of any standard brand, and indicates a product which is equal to or exceeds in fire resisting power. Carefully kept data show the cost to be practically 70 per cent. of the cost of standard material."

But Fredrickson, back yesterday that the quality of tufa cement is yet to be demonstrated in the construction of buildings, and he was not prepared to say just what he thought of the proposition.

BIG AND LITTLE PARKS.
LOS ANGELES HAS RECORD.

The Park Commission heard a report from the City Attorney yesterday showing that the city owns a park consisting of twenty-seven one-thousandths of an acre, at the junction of Pleasant avenue, Aliso and Briarwood, which is the smallest municipally-owned park in the country, just as Griffith Park is the largest. It contains twenty acres, and will be made a beauty spot.

Several protests were received against the proposed plan of improving the Central Park, with the idea of the two cities getting together on a plan for the playgrounds.

The City Council will be asked to direct to authorize the expenditure of 100 more park workers to take the place of those laid off last fall. The position of Park Masons' Foreman was filled, and the man, at $15 a month, and it is understood Charles Britton will be appointed to the place.

POWER PRELIMINARIES.
MORE MONEY CALLED FOR.

The Board of Public Works adopted a recommendation of E. F. Scattergood, chief electrical engineer of the Aqueduct, asking the City Council to appropriate $4000 more, to the Power and Development Fund, for the purpose of continuing the work on dams for power plants, penstocks, transmission lines, etc. This will make a total of $16,000 for this year, which does not include any preliminary engineering and other work in connection with tunnels or conduits, or the securing of rights of way. The question will come up in the meeting of the Council this morning.

THAT STORM DRAIN.
WILTON PLACE INVOLVED.

Since the adoption of the proceedings for building a storm drain on Wilton place, a proportion has been made by the Board of Public Works to build the La Brea drainage system, covering 2400 acres north of the Wilton place system. It is suggested that in one district, the whole being covered by one assessment, and the City Council is asked to give the board answers to the following three

ACTIVITY IN BREA CANYON.Several New Rigs Going Up at This Time.Big Companies Are Preparing for New Drilling.General News of Interest From Oil Fields.*

Special Correspondence of The Times.

ANAHEIM, May 1.—Development is unusually active in the Brea Canyon oil fields. Several new rigs are going up, drilling to start at the near future and some good production is expected within the next thirty days.

The Brea Canyon Oil Company is still pumping water out of well No. 6, which was recently completed at a depth of 4500 feet with three and a half inch perforated casing. This is the deepest well in the Brea Canyon district and the water is shut off.

A good producer is expected.

The Fullerton Oil Company has reached a depth of about 2200 feet in the redrilling of well No. 3, which is being put down with eight-inch casing. It is reported that the company has reached a depth of 3500 feet with ten-inch casing in the drilling of well No. 4, and indications are of a good producer.

The Graham and Loftus 4500-foot well in the La Habra Valley is being pumped from the bottom level, where about seventy barrels of 14-gravity are being obtained. Below that the tubing has been pulled. The water has been shut off below and was found to be lighter than oil so that either some way will be found to get it out or a new well drilled to get the water out. The last test showed a decrease in water and an increase in oil. An air compressor has been installed.

The Fullerton Oil Company has this month the ground and has been working on a rig on its lease near the Union Oil Company's lease in Chandler Canyon. It is hoped to get a good producer here, as the location is very favorable.

If this well is successful it will mean greater development on the Fullerton Oil Company's land in the Chandler field. This is its first well on land acquired some two years ago adjoining the Union's mineral well lease where two rigs are already at work.

The company has been holding this land during a favorable time to develop. It lies north of the Murphy wells in Coyote hills and northeast of the three miles from which the La Habra Oil company is about to complete a good well.

The Whittier-Des Moines Oil Company, operating in the Coyote Hills field, has recently drilled well No. 1, which is now down about 3500 feet. This well has shown more or less oil and the company is sure of a good producer.

The Anchor Petroleum Company has almost completed the necessary work of repairs on the boiler on its house, which was recently damaged by fire. The amount of damage done is estimated at least $100 and work of drilling will be suspended for only a short time.

The Coyote Hills Oil Company is making rapid progress in its drilling well No. 5, and from latest indications, will be in a good position in the near future. No statement has been given out when they expect to resume drilling on well No. 2, which has been in the ground for some weeks.

The Union Oil Company, operating on the Bantanchury ranch, has down more than 1900 feet on well No. 2, with 12½ inch casing. On the San Juan Ranch, the Union has drilled more than 3875 feet without striking oil. Eight and one-half-inch casing is still being used in the hole.

ONCE MORE EXTENDED.
OPTION GOOD TILL JULY.

The option obtained by the California Consolidated Oil Company (Admiral Evans) on the Spelley property, which has been extended several times, is due to expire yesterday, but has again been extended, this time until July. It is understood that new capital has been enlisted in the enterprise, and that the prospects for success are brighter than for some time.

In the meantime, a sale on 1000 acres of Mexican oil land owned by the California Consolidated has been substituted for the Premier Oil Company property in the Coalings field. This relieves the situation considerably, as the Premier was entered in the drilling race with the Mexoil, and the Mexoil property substituted will go in at a much smaller cost.

It is known that Timothy Spelley, chief of staff to Admiral Evans, is in the San Joaquin fields making an extensive investigation for the government. The main object of the work is to ascertain what oil operators are doing from the scientific point of view under the terms of the remedial law passed by the last Congress.

Chief Helm and his field assistants are devoting much time to finding out just what "good faith," as used in the law, means, and who are entitled to come under the classification.

SUNDACATE'S ACTIVITY.
GETS MORE OIL PROPERTIES.

It is reported that the English syndicate that recently closed its options on several valuable oil properties in the Coalings field—about seven in number—has taken up two more properties. There are the B. &amp; B. Oil Co. and the Coalings Central, for which $400,000 has been paid. The combined properties have a production of about 17,000 barrels a month. Charles M. of Los Angeles and W. P. Hammond, San Francisco, represented the English syndicate in the negotiations.

The other Coalings properties taken over are the Empire, the De Luca, the Rosario, the Amy and several others. It is said the holding company will have a capital of $15,000,000.

Also a few original models from leading houses of Paris. WORTH, CALLOT, CHERUIT, DRECOLL, PAQUIN, AND PAUL PORIET.

This Man Proved that Date-Growing in the Coachella Valley is Profit- able beyond all doubt or question

He proved that the soil and climatic conditions are ideal for date culture.He proved that the fruit produced is the equal of the famous Tunisian date.He proved that profits, from mature trees, of $500 per acre are easily realized. And it has been proved that crops of cotton grown between the rows—will pay good dividends while the trees are maturing.And now he offers to tell all he knows to us and to you; and to help us to raise this crop profitably. He offers to select our trees for us, to help us in their cultivation, to see that the result of his knowledge is brought to full fruition in our 378 acres of fertile land at Indio, in the Coachella Valley.This tract lies within 1-4 mile of one of the Government Experiment Stations, where the best results have been obtained in growing dates.We are selling stock in this company for $10.00 a share, and the money will be used to develop this ranch as the greatest of the date-producing centers of the country. $50,000 has already been subscribed.

LOS ANGELES (Loco Ahng-hay-lais.)

Entered at the Postoffice as mail matter of Class II.

A TO OLD PEOPLE.
It used to be insisted that nobody lived to be 100 years old. Now celebrations of centenarians are quite frequent; and it is all right. All of us know people walking about who have been on earth at least 200 years, to hear them tell it. And they could prove it, too, "old Bill Jones was alive."

Joy, THE LEVELER.
Joy is the great leveler. Wherefore, the children of the poor were as happy as the children of the rich in Los Angeles yesterday as the joy-wagons of many kindly people sped along the flower-flamed highways carrying the little orphans on the annual May Day joy-ride for an "annual" it shall be.

BUFFALO BILL'S POLITICS.
Col. William Cody says that he is a Republican, more or less, and hopes to be elected Senator from Arizona. Perhaps Bill will be more of a Republican if they elect him; less, if they do not. In the meantime Arizona has not yet been admitted to the Union and Cody can spend the present season, at least, with his show.

PROSPERITY OF ORANGE MEN.
California orange growers are receiving fair prices for their crops this year and the demand continues good in the eastern market. Thanks to the improvement in the methods of raising the fruit and, above all, of the marketing, there is a margin of profit. Years ago, and it was not so long, either, Florida furnished the oranges for the East, but is no longer.

A GOOD LAW.
A local automobile was arrested for failing to report a collision with a motorcyclist. While pedestrians would not regret the total annihilation of all the motorcycles in existence, we are glad to see the law concerning the notification of accidents rigidly enforced. Relatives of persons run down and killed by autos and motorcycles sometimes wish to call for the remains.

THE BERGER VIEW.
As Victor L. Berger, the only Socialist member of Congress, has offered a bill doing away with the Senate. We move to amend, by inserting the name of the Milwaukee statesman as the thing to be abolished. The Senate is intended to hold the whip hand on such inflammable people as Berger. This fellow will want to abolish the solar system one of these days.

JUST LIKE A DEMOCRAT.
An unidentified Democratic member of the House from Indiana insists that the Postoffice Department be investigated; he fears that Postmaster-General Hitchcock is doing something wrong. It strikes us that the head of a department who can reduce the annual deficit something over $17,000,000 to less than $90,000 a year needs no probe. We doubt whether there is any thing in our governmental history comparable with this record in the way of administrative reform.

THE DIVORCE QUESTION.
The fact that three departments of the Los Angeles Superior Courts are clogged with divorce cases, and that the number of cases filed each day exceeds the number disposed of, again calls attention to the divorce question. The conditions are appalling. What became of the proposed legislation that was to cure the evil so far as California was concerned? Nothing was accomplished by the Assembly on that issue and there is none that exceeds it in importance.

THE HAPPY CHILDREN.
The Times was never happier than it was yesterday. To help good people bring sunshine into the heart of a child to bring him laughter into the heart of a parent, planned boys and girls and to send them singing among the flowers and by the shores of the sea is the best business that this great religious daily has ever felt itself to have been engaged in. Our warmest thanks to the best people on earth, the kindly children of dear Los Angeles who made all this brightness possible!

THEY ARE GRAFTERS.
Baldom do the views of trade-unions coincide with the views entertained by us. Particularly is this true of the views displayed by the "higher-ups." We are always ready to give credit where credit is due, however. It is with pleasure that we endorse the statement made by Andrew Furuseth, president of the Sailors' Union of the Pacific, a "shining light" in the unions in a recent address before the central body of San Francisco. The statement is that in which Furuseth branded working delegates as "grafters." To quote him: "Give this organization its right name (referring to a union of business agents) AN ORGANIZATION OF GRAFTERS." This is more than we expected from Furuseth. We do not question the truth of the statement. It coincides with the views we have for years entertained. We could not have put it better. Neither do we question Furuseth's judgment. He has been a trade-unionist for many years. He has been a paid officer of the union for nearly as long a time. He ought to know what he is talking about. We understand that Furuseth, in order to back up his statement, named several well-known business agents of unions who "go away with the coin of the union." We have from time to time acquainted the public, through the columns of this paper, with just such instances as cited by Furuseth.

A son of Ambassador Bacon has broken his engagement with a Washington belle. But perhaps Bacon was too high for her.

OUR MAY DAY JOY.
In merrie England 100, 200, 300 years ago, on each May Day there was erected upon the "village" green a pole. It was wreathed and garlanded from base to summit with white lilies and blue crocuses and yellow daffodils and hawthorns and jasmines and all the flowers that bloom in the spring, twined with the soft green of vines. The soft music of violin, the deep tones of viol and the shrill sounds of the pipe mingled in soft harmony and put the feet in lively motion to the beat of Sir Roger de Coverley or swayed the body to the steady swingings of the minstrel.

It was the one day in English social life when caste distinctions were banished. The youth who was the heir of thousands of acres danced with the daughter of his father's tenant; and young Hobos, with hands hardened with the plow handles, was not disdained as a partner in the dance by the daughter of a baronet.

The Queen of the May, though peasant-born, was loyally worshipped by her subjects for a day and England was indeed "merrie England" from the rising to the setting of the sun.

When Lord Protector Cromwell reigned May Day festivities and Christmas carols were banished by Praise God Barebones and Tribulation Smith, who "mistook rancor for virtue" and looked upon merrymakings as inventions of Satan. With the return of the Stuarts to the throne they were resumed and remained until the middle of the last century.

In our country May Day was not, except in a few localities, celebrated.

But yesterday under the auspices of The Times May Day was celebrated—oh! wasn't it celebrated—at Los Angeles and Venice?

The celebrators did not—as in England of old—rise to the May Day gatherings in chaises or on the backs of donkeys. They went there in bombing autos and they had the time of their little lives. Adults—except as spectators, or chauffeurs, or chaperons, were barred. But the little ones—God bless their pure souls and pretty faces and loving hearts—were there in swarms. Old ocean welcomed them and kissed their feet, and Old Sol shone upon them and crammed their ebon and golden tresses with aureoles of glory. And they sang, and shouted, rolled in the soft clean sands and played all the games in the world, and had all the cakes and candy, and sweet things and lemonade that they could load into their little tummies.

The coronation of King George may be a more gorgeous spectacle than was given by generous, warm-hearted automobile owners to the children of Los Angeles in their desire to compare with them in genuine joy at all expense.

Childhood and childhood sat upon the throne of the City of the Angels and all bowed in loyal devotion to the small sovereigns, Dukes, Earls, Barons, gold sticks in waiting, bedizened marshals and pompous officials there were not. But all that glory, all that wealth could give, could not compare with the loving welcome that was accorded to the little ones. It was an occasion that will in the years to come cause the eyelids to tingle to tears of joy at the remembrance of it.

And after adolescence has succeeded infancy and the girls and boys of yesterday shall have become the men and women of tomorrow—

"Forever and forever.

So long as the river flows,

And so long as the heart has passions

And so long as life has woes."

Each recurring May Day will bring a memory of the day of joy that The Times is glad it was able to help its kind friends give the kids.

CANADIAN RECIPROCITY—A MISTAKE.
Reciprocity with Canada, if accomplished as proposed, will be a great mistake—one of the few mistakes in our economic history—in which some members of the party of protection—the Republican party—have joined. All honor then to the seventy-nine Republicans and ten Democrats who voted against it in the House April 21.

The farmers, the lumbermen, and the paper makers are almost solidly against it, and every protective tariff organization of the country is also against it.

Millions of American voters are against it, and there is much opposition to it even in Canada. The thing is not needed and can only be a disturbing element.

We do not need it to increase our sales to Canada, as they are generously increasing by natural demand, following Canadian need, the superiority of American goods, and geographical contiguity, in spite of the one-third tariff handicap against us in favor of British goods.

Witness the Bureau of Statistics figures of our exports to Canada in the past twenty fiscal years:

1890	$40,332,108
1895	52,554,179
1900	93,119,970
1902	104,694,169
1904	131,224,985
1906	156,736,855
1908	167,093,947
1910	215,990,021
Increase in twenty years 175,107,913

What about our industries other than farming, fishing, lumber and paper making? Will they get cheaper food or cheaper raw material? Not if there is a good general demand, and our increased imports in the past few years show how good the demand is for all imports generally.

The Times neither expects nor predicts war. But why keep the navy hidden behind a continent where, in case of war, it would be unavailable?

RISING POTATOES BY PRAYER.
According to Congressman Jamieson of Iowa, the most beneficial and the most profitable results are being produced by mixing the truths of revealed religion with the cultivation of corn and potatoes. It seems that a sinful father, dwelling in Page county, Iowa, was contented with a yield of thirty-three bushels of corn to the acre. His son, a pupil in the rural school, grew weary of hearing the old man sing the hymn, "Lord what a wretched land is this, that yields us no supply." The kid, "selected his seed scientifically, tested each ear skillfully, planted and cultivated it wisely and devoutly," says Jamieson, and, as a result, "raised ninety-three bushels per acre on the same farm in the same year and on no better land."

In South Carolina where, as a rule, the agriculturists raise more hell than they do hooch, a devout and scientific boy raised 228½ bushels of corn to the acre.

Witness the figures of imports:

1895	$731,969,965
1900	849,941,184
1905	1,175,113,071
1906	1,220,113,076
1907	1,424,421,425
1908 (depression year)	1,194,241,792
1909	1,371,220,224
1910	1,357,819,988

Increase in fifteen years $25,850,023

Will our industries gain a larger market? Yes, a market of 7,500,000, but in exchange for it we give a market of 93,000,000 people.

Who will benefit? No one, unless he is engaged in trading or transportation. Certainly not the American producer.

Is not Canada's concession on a few manufactures of some benefit? It is so small "you can put it in your eye." Even cottonseed oil can gain nothing, for it had the field before. Canada merely reduces revenue for her own consumers.

How will Upward Manufacturing companies be affected? For one thing, Canada may place a higher duty upon those not "reciprocated" to make up for the loss of revenue on natural products, as was done by her under the Canadian-American reciprocity treaty in force from 1854 to 1865. The possible greater prosperity of

The May Day "Stroke."

METAPHYSICS—WHAT?

BY HENRY CHRISTEN WARACK.

Six speakers tried to fool the public what metaphysics is at Blanchard Hall last night. Many members of the audience are still alive.

There is prevalent a notion that new thought is a system, for dodging the consequences of conduct. In reality new thought is a system, not for beating the game, but to teach one to play the game by rule. It is possible that there are more persons who believe that new thought makes chin chin grow where one grows before. On the contrary, new thought teaches a man to think twice before waving his chin at all.

New thought never has said and never will say that indirection will not hurt a man as long as he thinks right about it. New thought insists that a man shall think right so that he will not do the inconsistent things that bring pain and embarrassment. Metaphysics is nothing more than consistent living mapped out by consistent thinking. It is merely the application of eternal principles to good purposes.

A man does not have to be a mystic or a master to realize that there is as much divinity about all things as can be recognized. The man who is true to these ideals, as far as he sees them, is a great metaphysician. He really does not mend his fortunes or his health by thinking well of them after he is broken in either, but he does manage to keep himself whole in body and purse by thinking reasonably before he enters a line of conduct and by persisting in right conduct with the courage of one who knows what he is about.

The trouble with people who are in pain or want is that they have not understood the laws that keep men square with life. Metaphysics undertakes to instruct the doer in a line of right action.

Metaphysics teaches that every day of life offers a man a choice of conduct and that he acts with wisdom is a good man, while the bad man is guilty only of folly. It teaches that the fool is a master who is not awake. In other words, the fool and the sinner are the two who are mentally and spiritually near-sighted.

New thought uses liniment for a headache and flannel rags soaked in turpentine for a cold after these maladies have appeared. It does not try to cure things by thinking they do not exist, but it does try to remove ill by thinking and acting so that the unlucky will have health.

It is said that there is money in commodities if you can get it out. Metaphysics says there is power and truth in a man if he can exploit it. New thought says that there is power in knowledge if a man can make it work. The proof that a man has a working knowledge of something lies in the force and the originality of its expression. The man who has his knowledge on a working basis is original, just as nature is so original that it makes no two faces or no two leaves exactly alike. For a nickel a man may buy a glass of alleged orangeade. The glass will taste like orangeade, but it will not have it, and it will not be the principle of the drink he desires.

It is said that there is money in commodities if you can get it out. Metaphysics says there is power and truth in a man if he can exploit it. For a nickel a man may buy a glass of alleged orangeade. The glass will taste like orangeade, but it will not have it, and it will not be the principle of the drink he desires.

Metaphysics says that life is a series of problems and that man is the party who guesses at them. The party who does not guess at the public says it is lucky. He has good health until high living gives him the gout or rheumatics and he has as much money as the trusts will let him have until the trusts want it back. If he fails to have the good sense to do the right thing at the right time he misses the answer. If he misses it, then he puts it off and it goes to jail. A man in jail is just as bad off as a man in church because in the church they will not let him think and in jail they will not let him act.

Metaphysics goes back to the days of the Greeks, to take up an analysis of thought forms where the Greeks left off. There is a suspicion that Kant also attempted to do this, but all that most of us know of Kant is that we cannot understand him. Our study of him is about as successful as Oliver Herford's "Goose Girl and Schopenhauer." This classifies Kant.

See the grease beneath the tree. Gather round the goose girl's knee. While she reads him by the hour From the works of Schopenhauer.

How patiently the geese attend. But do they really comprehend What Schopenhauer is saying? Oh, not at all, but what of that? Neither do I, neither does she. And for that, neither did he.

Regardless of Kant, Schopenhauer or Oliver Herford, Mr. H. G. Wells and myself constitute at least two absolute authorities on this subject who do agree that the Greeks were good people.

They were really trying to relate man as a unit of force to that vast organization which constitutes unity in its entirety. It is the business of modern metaphysics to demonstrate that man "is the sum of the unit, but not the whole in quantity" all the good that life contains.

STREAKS OF WIT.

Was Off the Key.

"Johnny," said the teacher, "here is a book. Now stand up straight and sing like a little bird."

The song was "Nearer, My God."

No sooner had the school commenced to sing than a little girl waved her hand frantically.

Stopping the singing the teacher inquired the cause.

"Please, teacher, I think Johnny will get nearer if he whistles."—[Catholic Standard.]

PLAN FIGHT ON TWO SENATORS.

(From the Chicago Record-Herald.)

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Plans to fight in the Senate to have charges preferred against the manner of the election of Senators John D. Works, the new insurance king, and Senator from California, and R. F. Shively, Democrat of Indiana. The move is said to be against the progressive Republicans and Democrats of the Senate who are trying to oust Senator Lorimer of Illinois and Senator Stephen Stephenson of Wisconsin, both guardians.

It is alleged that Senator Works' election was in violation of the California primary law which provided that persons carrying the largest number of legislative districts at popular primary should be recommended for election.

A. G. Spalding, the standpat candidate, is said to have carried a majority of the districts, but Senator Works had the largest popular vote.

FACTS, FEATURES AND ANCIES FOR WOMEN. By Olive Gray

DAILY BEAUTY HINT: The woman who wishes to wear the Dutch neck, or even the yoke of transparent material, which summer fashions will demand, must have a neck at least moderately white, and there are several ways of producing this result. Citric acid is an excellent bleach, and while the name sounds rather formidable, if you make it at home it is a very simple matter. Extract the juice from two good fresh lemons and strain it through a cloth several times, then add half a pint of filtered rain or soft water. As this lotion has rather an acid odor, a little oil of lavender or any preferred perfume may be added. Apply to the part which you wish to bleach and allow it to dry in. If glycerine agrees with your skin, a teaspoonful may be added.

I have a friend who makes it a point to entertain her "less fortunate" acquaintances by taking them for trips in her big tourist car instead of using an indoor formal call upon a member of the city, she phones and makes an appointment for a short drive, just about the city.

"I figure," when they are more than just friends, they desire more than anything else, to see Los Angeles. They can, of course, hire some sort of conveyance to go on vacation, but it is different to go with someone who has no car, and it is a pleasure to the people and places from the point of view of a resident and even if it be half an hour or the time to get to the station, it is a formality, it can be well used in a little run of this kind. Then, if I have more time, I take the friend into the suburbs or to the beach. It is not easy to do this to take the newcomer out over the new Laurel Canyon road into the San Fernando Valley. I believe that road to be the prettiest in the world, and it is such a wonderful piece of road-making, it is as pictureque at every turn, and then, when the valley opens up the view, it is like one bright sun.

Continuing, she told of taking out several Eastern persons, recently and upon the return of their vacation, upon the road. It seems, was a good man from Chicago and a man who had occupied high positions in many places in the world. "His admiration of the road was so great that he said his interest in the trackless trolley, was great," said she, "but when we traversed that glorious paved boulevard, after the first few miles, he said, 'This is Via Maya, Marian, and in fact the length of the valley project, he was breathless and at last, as he realized the magnificence of the road, and saw how much had been accomplished in the way of paving, building, beautifying and railroading construction, just since the first of the year, he exclaimed with a smile, 'We have a real Chicago enterprise.' As he was a man of that city, you know that in his exclamation he had seen the signs of praise upon the work which he believed."

Women at Coronation.

Have you noticed that women are to play a greater part in the coronation ceremonies in England than ever before? The Queen is to have a larger role than ever before and the ceremonies will make these women more conspicuous.

Just why is this so, we do not know, unless that women are taking a more prominent part in affairs in general than ever before in the world's history.

Household Muslin Less.

A sale in all lines of household muslin, such as sheetings, pillowcasings and muslin for underwear, affords an opportunity for "stocking up" in these articles. This sale is in progress at one of the large Broadway stores.

Letters to THE TIMES.

BY SYDNEY FORD.

The programme for the State convention of the Federation of Women's Clubs, which is to be held at Beach next week, is at hand. Incidentally, the names of officers and committees, it covers some five pages of closely typed matter. Practically everything in the realm of science, art, civic, educational, social, health, philanthropy and politics will be considered.

The headquarters of the convention will be at Hotel Villa, and most of the sessions will take place, the Ebell Clubhouse and the big auditorium at Long Beach being gaily decorated in honor of the coronation.

The officers are, Mrs. Russell J. Williams, president; Mrs. R. H. Robbins of San Diego, vice-president; Mrs. E. G. Denman, of San Francisco, first vice-president at large; Mrs. S. M. Davis of Santa Ana, recording secretary; Miss Adele Humphrey of Los Angeles, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Frank Howes of Long Beach; and Mrs. H. W. Neely of Fresno, auditors; Mrs. J. W. Orr of San Francisco, general federation secretary.

The programme of events from the crowning of George III to the coming coronation of George V, and Miss Azema March, will speak of the coronation on the coronation. A Nominating Committee will be chosen to prepare a ticket for the annual election of officers.

Mrs. J. Q. A. Henry, recently returned from Australia, and now living in New Zealand, was the speaker on Sunday afternoon.

Frances are seen on many of the new lingerie gowns as girdle and trimmings.

A good deal of heavy embroidery and Irish crochet lace appears on new waists.

There is a tendency to combine several articles of apparel, but it is different to some one who has made an appointment to the city, she phones and makes an appointment for a short drive, just about the city.

"I figure," when they are more than just friends, they desire more than anything else, to see Los Angeles. They can, of course, hire some sort of conveyance to go on vacation, but it is different to go with someone who has no car, and it is a pleasure to the people and places from the point of view of a resident and even if it be half an hour or the time to get to the station, it is a formality, it can be well used in a little run of this kind. Then, if I have more time, I take the friend into the suburbs or to the beach. It is not easy to do this to take the newcomer out over the new Laurel Canyon road into the San Fernando Valley. I believe that road to be the prettiest in the world, and it is such a wonderful piece of road-making, it is as pictureque at every turn, and then, when the valley opens up the view, it is like one bright sun.

Continuing, she told of taking out several Eastern persons, recently and upon the return of their vacation, upon the road. It seems, was a good man from Chicago and a man who had occupied high positions in many places in the world. "His admiration of the road was so great that he said his interest in the trackless trolley, was great," said she, "but when we traversed that glorious paved boulevard, after the first few miles, he said, 'This is Via Maya, Marian, and in fact the length of the valley project, he was breathless and at last, as he realized the magnificence of the road, and saw how much had been accomplished in the way of paving, building, beautifying and railroading construction, just since the first of the year, he exclaimed with a smile, 'We have a real Chicago enterprise.' As he was a man of that city, you know that in his exclamation he had seen the signs of praise upon the work which he believed."

TUESDAY MORNING

The Effect.
OUTSIDE MAN IS OVER-DEVELOPED.

HANKE TELLS WHY BUSINESS WORLD SUFFERS.

Before One Hundred Young Men at Y.M.C.A. Banquet, Leader in Religious Movement Praises Its Work and Points Out Beneficial Effect on Generation.

A complimentary banquet was held at the National Bank of New York, who is chairman of the "Men and Religion Forward Movement of North America," and C. R. Joy, a manufacturer of Iowa, chairman of the Finance Committee of the same organization, at the Y.M.C.A., last night.

Both men are connected with the International Committee of Y.M.C.A. Associations, and in the presence of the $500,000 campaign now in progress by the Los Angeles Association for expansion of the work.

Leaders of the Y.M.C.A. ministers to the outside, as well as the inside man, Mr. Cannon, stated that we are suffering in the business world from an overdevelopment of the outside man. He has been polished with dollars and given three suits of clothes which he can't afford, of course happily. This sounds very commonplace in retail, but it is all glorified by the literary cleverness and historical significance of Mr. Joy's speech.

The Y.M.C.A. lies in the fact that it recognises the existence of the outside and the inside man, and shows them that they are both important, so as to do it rounds out men's lives and makes them better for you to meet them.

Mr. Cannon's topic was "The Commercial Value of the Young Men's Christian Association." The subject was particularly interesting because of the $500,000 campaign now in progress by the Los Angeles Association for expansion of the work.

Mr. Cannon referred to the socialistic tendencies that are growing up among the employees of shops and factories, and the importance of getting out against this. This is because we supply a remedy for the outside man. The Y.M.C.A. aims to raise the standard of character in young men, it is true, but it is also in their strength in pushing in them a strong belief in their fellow-men.

Mr. Cannon is interested in a great many political and religious enterprises in New York, but he stated he had never given a dollar to any organization with which he connected, except that the Y.M.C.A. gave him the dollars do which he gives to the Y.M.C.A., for he feels that the Y.M.C.A. reaches the points which he himself does not.

He congratulated the young men that have in Los Angeles the chance to put more money into this movement, more rich, red blood into it. The movement deserved their support as far as they are able to give it.

The four Kornet brothers have a present and may be due to turn up.

Alida Capriano, strong woman par excellence, and Burr Macintosh, a good actor hidden in a terrible vehicle, remain upon the bill.

(Special Correspondence of The Times.)
DOUGLAS (Ariz.) April 30.—Military and other rebels from Sonora are anxiously awaiting the results of the peace negotiations now under way at Juarez. The situation is a little clouded throughout Sonora, because the attitude of the rebel leaders in that State is not clearly understood by Americans.

After the federal soldiers recaptured Agua Prieta, Antonio Rodas, Antonio Garcia, Rosario Garcia, Herrera and Miranda, and Juan Cardo, all of whom have figured in battles of more or less importance in Sonora, congregated their forces in the Nacozari Valley, and prepared for another, the fourth battle of Agua Prieta. Then came the truce.

It is estimated that the Sonora rebels now have a force of not less than three thousand men in many different bands within eighty miles of Agua Prieta, some of these within Diaz.

Reports of being disengaged by the half of Agua Prieta, the rebels seemed to take new heart, and recently have joined the different bands in large numbers. But the fact that Diaz, Antonio Garcia and possibly others have gone on to El Paso to confer with the Mexican representatives left the rebels in doubt as to whether the Sonora revolutionaries are acting in harmony with Francisco Madero and whatever peace negotiations he and his will have the support of the rebel forces now in the field in Sonora.

There is no sign to El Paso, and he is making his headquarters in and around Mexicali, probably being here to have an eye upon the northern rebel camps within striking distance of Agua Prieta. The rebels everywhere throughout Sonora show signs of old-time friendliness for Americans, but the latter have been keeping out of Sonora from many days, pending the making of peace between the two countries.

Americans here believe certain circumstances have made the story told by Ridgeway, who recently came to Los Angeles from Lafayette, Ind. They are convinced that the story was a fabrication, and believing Ridgeway to be a brigadier general, converted him into a major general, who from a back room telephone message was sent to the post office. A detective was sent to the place.

After an investigation last night, the police finally credited the story told by Ridgeway, who recently came to Los Angeles from Lafayette, Ind. They are convinced that the story was a fabrication, and believing Ridgeway to be a brigadier general, converted him into a major general.

A HEALTHY, HAPPY OLD AGE

May be promoted by those who gently cleanse the system, now and then, when in need of a laxative remedy, by taking a dessertspoonful of the ever refreshing, wholesome and truly beneficial Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, which is the only family laxative generally approved by the most eminent physicians, because it acts in a natural, strengthening way and warms and tones up the internal organs without weakening them.

It is equally beneficial for the very young and the middle-aged, as it is always efficient and free from all harmful ingredients. To get its beneficial effects it is always necessary to buy the genuine, bearing the name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package.

SEALS TO MIX WITH ANGELS.

Los Angeles Is Recovering After Hard Sledding.

San Francisco Also Breathes in Easier Fashion.

Tozer's Return to the Box Heartens Local Team.

The Angels are going up against some of the neighborhood teams of the Coast League, this afternoon, when they meet the San Francisco Seals at Washington Park in the first contest of a week's series.

The Seals have not had the best of luck this last week against the Oakland team, so that have been playing fair ball, while the Angels have been getting dog in the series against the Vernon Tigers.

The Seals, according to dispatches from the north, are in fair shape to go against Los Angeles, and although the local team is not in condition the team is better off than it was a week ago.

Dillon's pitchers are still afflicted with sore arms, but the return of Tozer to winning form has put much heart into the Angel bank, and with two or three of the others coming around, the team ought to break even, at least.

The Angels worked out at the park yesterday morning and in the afternoon took a rest, some going to the beach and others remaining with their wives in the city.

Player Harry Berry is not disheartened over the failure of the team to make good so far this year.

It is a long season, and luck is bound to turn up sometime in the way he put it last night. "We are having our bad luck now; some of the other fellows will be having theirs later in the season, and we are safe, and then you will see us climb." Although we are at the bottom, you will see that there is very little difference between our team and the others.

THE FORTY PINK IMMORTALS.

NO. 1 W. HENRY BERRY.

Six years of age is just the time when the future presidents and heroes of this country throw down their batons and begin to think about playing.

Don't you believe there is one in this town? And if you think that way just go out and see who will play first base for the Los Angeles team.

No one but Frank Dillon, and he is not only one of the youngest ball baseball when he was 6 years old was that he somehow figured that some day he would be the captain of the Los Angeles team. To fit himself for that he dropped his marbles one day and joined in with the boys to play baseball.

He did not believe there is one in this town? And if you think that way just go out and see who will play first base for the Los Angeles team.

About that first ball game he played in? Was any boy ever born who could play? Who ever rode a team and bird's nest? Did you ever hear of any society man, rich enough to be homely, who could remember the name of his team? What about the team that keeps trying to get him to play ball?

Dillon says he pitched and caught while that day, played all the bases and the outfield, and even umpired for the other Indians. Of course, he made about 200 runs and made the most vicious catches that any 6-year-old ever can. He stopped a fellow from winning the game with a home run, and the next time he was up he hit a home run, and then went to catch it. He mastered this and then he played the outfield and became so perfect in this line that he could keep his eye on the ball and catch it on the heads. This is one of the first qualifications of an outfielder.

Then Dillon became an infielder, and he did so much better with different parts of his body that he decided that there was less danger on first base than in any other position, and he has been on first base ever since.

He made him doesn't know how many runs and probably taught them how to score them for other Indians.

He admits that he went to school whenever there were no ball games, but in the four years he has been in school, quite a large part of his time has been spent at his college and graduated from the school at Normal, Ill.

He has been here eight years, and he is now Normal, and he is near Bloomington, which is forty miles east of Peoria. He began his professional career as a player for the Hoosiers, and was played with Butch, Scratton, Rockford, Brooklyn, Pittsburgh, Detroit and Los Angeles.

Sure, Mr. Wad Knows That It's Good Luck to Rub a Bald-Headed African on the Bean!*WHERE WE GET OFF.

BY J. ALEX. SLOAN.

In no branch of athletic sport has this brought about a greater change than in the prize ring. Only two decades ago the square circuit was the most popular of the short-haired, uncircumcised hero of the lower elements of society. Today the ring is regarded with favor by the best men in the land. In fact, some of the greatest institutions in the country hold weekly bouts for the entertainment of their members who constitute the best and most representative of the business and professional community.

But Corbett's smile and wondered why Sullivan made so much noise. We explained that he had come for a good time. He was still very polite and did his best. He showed us the dimensions of the ring, the tenth and the twelfth, the tennis court (empty), and then, feeling that the reputation of Glendale was at stake, he had a touch of inspiration. He said, "I never heard of such a thing as a soft footstep in the most aristocratic clubhouses."

Corbett introduced a method of fighting in its primeval form which was evidently not to Sullivan's taste, but he still fought him with all his might. He was too much of a fighter to be beaten up in a row and John actually buried into the river in the confusion. But Sullivan had so much energy and was so confused, that he burst forth on the pugilistic field.

It was about the first fight in which Old L. took part was on a barge in the Hudson River and the story of that encounter sounds like a modern drama. John L. was a tall, thin, slender youth, a favorite with the rougher element of New York City. It was planned, however, that he would be the one to whom the fight would be given, and his opponent was an old, sturdy, bald-headed man, a private eye, and a gambler.

Both Corbett and Sullivan were to meet in the ring. Sullivan had received the worse beating there but his style of fighting was better than Corbett's. Sullivan had been trained by a coach who was a master of the art of boxing.

Evolution had been going on, as I said before, but this victory was the first of the modern pugilists, who fought under the Marquis of Queensbury rules, a set of rules which were adopted and several good-natured contests were held in Philadelphia and Boston as well as in New York, and the first all conditions in the ring. Many fighters have claimed that the act of the Marquis of Queensbury was the turning point in the development of the sport, and that the introduction of the Marquis of Queensbury rules was the turning point in the development of the sport.

It is interesting to note that the first fight in the ring was between Sullivan and Corbett, and that the second was between Corbett and Sullivan. The third was between Sullivan and Corbett again.

LADY GOLFERS TO TEE TODAY.

Subscription Tournament at New Country Club.

First of the Season on the Local Course.

Men Propose to Be on Hand to Watch Playing.

Women golfers of Southern California will have a subscription tournament on the Los Angeles County Club grounds, May 12. It is the first of the season arranged for the local course and the first to be played by members of the fair sex on these grounds.

Among the list of players will be Fred T. Griffith, Mrs. W. T. Bishop Jr., Mrs. H. D. Requa, Miss Katherine Mellus and Mrs. Frank Griffith.

Club members of the opposite sex are interested in seeing what the ladies may be able to do on the new course, admittedly a rather difficult one even for the stronger players among the men. The ladies will play from the tees used by the men and are asking no concessions.

This event will furnish some line on what may be expected in the annual tournament to be held next week beginning Monday under the direction of the California Women's Golf Association.

Next Monday will be played the qualifying round of eighteen holes medal play. The number to qualify for match play for the championship will depend upon the number of entries. Mrs. Fred T. Griffith, who has charge of the tournament, has not yet received information from the North as to the number intended to come down for the event, but expects a good representation from the Bay City's clubs. Among the southern ladies entered are the following: Mrs. Frank Griffith, Miss Mellus, Mrs. Bishop, Mrs. Herbert Dunn, Mrs. A. D. Hodges of San Diego, and Mrs. Fred Griffith. Several are expected from Riverside, and others from San Gabriel. During the week will continue match play for the main trophy and other competition prizes that have been hung up for the event. On Saturday, May 13, will be held the annual meeting of the association, tea will be served at the clubhouse.

The next Saturday afternoon will be held the annual tournament auxiliary to the Southern California Men's Amateur Championships on the links of the Los Angeles Country Club. About twenty entries will have been expected. This tournament is open to all members of clubs in the general association. An entry fee of $1 is charged and to that is added a dollar by the association for every entry, with which to procure prizes. The entry fee will be $2. The lowest medal score are two or three for the first, second and third low handicap score, match play against bogey. The event will be only for the afternoon, 15 holes.

The regular Saturday afternoon sweepstakes last Saturday was won by Northern Michigan, who made a new record for the course in competition. His score for the round was 75, four below bogey and two under par. His match play score against bogey was 29, and he won the second place and J. H. Bohm third place.

Play for the championship of Northern California is now on at the San Francisco club, and in the qualifying round played Saturday young R. Y. Hayne of the Ingleside Club had a low score with a 70, while P. Phillips, of the Chalmont crack, and C. E. Maud, once southern and State champion, were tied for second with a score of 80. Other top qualities were: Vincent Williams, 81; W. White, 82; E. K. Hobson, 82; A. Cuthbertson, 84; C. D. Whyte, 84; Jack Neville, 85; F. Kales, 85.

Robin Hayne seems to be playing the best game of any among the northern golfers and is picked by many to win the championship this year.
